First name: Surname:

Postcode: Town:

The account should be managed in the following base currency:

British pounds £ Euros € US dollars $ Swiss francs Fr or the following currency: (Please enter the currency abbreviation here)

Please note: Generally, the account is always managed as a multi-currency account in the interests of the customer. A multi-currency account allows customers to manage the account in one currency and trade stock exchange products in one or several other currencies without making a currency change beforehand. As a result, you can respond to market situations around the globe in seconds. If you have credit of at least USD 2,000 (or the equivalent in a different currency), a margin loan may also be made available to you by the account-holding broker, if required.

This trading in other currencies creates debit or credit items in the foreign currency; the re-exchange back into the base currency only takes place if instructions are received from the account holder and not automatically. A margin account (also called a collateral account) provides you with more flexibility, if you require this and the market situation allows it. Please note that any margin loans used are subject to interest payments. Stock exchange transactions on margin loans (credit) are very risky. Please consider the possible risks involved here.

Accounts designated in GBP are held in the name of Interactive Brokers LLC at the Citibank, N.A. (London Branch), London/UK. You will be provided with further information about paying-in and paying-out methods and bank transfers in other currencies immediately after we have received your full application to open an account or if you request this information.

Assessment of appropriateness

In order to process your application it is necessary for us to satisfy ourselves that the services and products you are seeking to access are appropriate for you. This assessment requires us to evaluate your level of knowledge and experience of the type of products and trading you intend to engage in and your capacity to absorb losses. We require the information set out in the following sections for purposes of this assessment.

It is very important that you provide truthful and accurate information so that we can complete an accurate assessment of appropriateness. Failure to do so could mean that we process your application on an incorrect basis such that you are exposed to risks that you do not expect and which are not appropriate for your level of investment experience, knowledge and financial situation. The information you provide will be treated with extreme confidentiality, will only be used for purposes of processing your account opening application and will only be disclosed to the account holding broker with your consent.

A detailed explanation of the potential risks associated with online trading activity and the types of products you might be able to access and trade through an online trading account can be found in the "Risk Information & Protection Statement" located in the "Security" section of our website. In summary, the key risks to be aware of, and which you must be comfortable potentially being exposed to, are:

1. The value of your investments can go down as well as up and you may not get back the full amount of capital you invest;
2. Movements in the price of financial instruments can be volatile and unpredictable, sudden shifts in price can result in substantial losses;
3. Market liquidity can fluctuate significantly and rapidly;
4. Insolvency or financial default of other parties involved in transactions with you can, in certain situations, result in the complete loss of your investments;
5. Online trading is susceptible to failures of hardware, software and connections, which can jeopardise execution of your trading orders;
6. Leverage or gearing can result in increased volatility and increase potential losses and margin calls; and
7. Transaction costs can reduce investment returns.

If you do not feel comfortable that you fully understand the risks outlined above, you must carefully review the "Risk Information and Protection Statement" on our website before proceeding. If, after reading the statement you are still unclear or uncomfortable, we strongly recommend that you seek independent advice before proceeding.
